Strength: Ender Wiggin is very strong. Although he is small, he is powerful. "Ender Wiggin is ten times smarter and stronger than I am." This is a quote said by Colonel Graff in chapter eight. It shows that Ender is smarter and stronger than even a Colonel. Also, Ender gets in many fights against characters who are older than him and still defeat them, such as Bonzo Madrid.

Intelligence: The quote by Colonel Graff works in this case also where Ender is also smarter than him. Ender also is very smart and can use his mind to defeat enemies. For example, he defeats Bernard, a 12 year old boy in a game. He also gets the highest score in "The Mind Game", which is an extremely complex game. His intelligence plays a huge role in this novel as he wouldn't be who he is without it.

Heroic/Brave: Ender is extremely brave because he was only six when at the beginning of the novel. When I was six, I was even too scared to go in an elevator alone! Yet Ender manage to push through while knowing he is becoming a soldier to fight aliens at such a young age. He didn't complain once and kept going through. "Ender Wiggin must believe that no matter what happens, no adult will ever, ever step in to help him in any way... If he does not believe that, then he will never reach the peak of his abilities." is a quote found in chapter 12. Although it does not say that Ender actually thought in that way, I knew he did in his actions.
